THE UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA STAFF BULLETIN

EDMONTON, ALBERTA

JULY 20, 1972

Butter churns and old kettles are set aside for a moment as the cast and crew of "Rip van Winkle" take a rehearsal break in Rip's kitchen (left). The play is Joseph Jefferson's version of the folk tale by Washington Irving, first published in 1819. Every 20 years, Henry

Hudson and his men tote "magical likker" (right) to a rocky cove in the Kaatskill Mountains, where Rip drinks with them and passes out for 20 years. The play begins tonight at 9 p.m. at Torches Theatre and continues every evening through Klondike Days.

ENTERTAINERS BY TRADE

Alberta Barter Theatre is well into its first season here at the University, and the success of the project is evident in the enthusiastic response they have had from the community.

In addition to such things as Mexicorn, a kaleidoscope, poker chips, and a package of u-bake-it bread from someone who thought they "might need the dough," the company has received cash donations from the majority of its patrons. They consider both forms of payment equally important—"in cash" provides the funds for the company's continued operation; "in kind" keeps alive the imagination, the spirit of Alberta Barter Theatre.

The barter theatre idea was suggested to the group by LARRY KADLEC, Associate Professor of Drama, who knew of its success in Abingdon, Virginia. LEE LIVINGSTON, BOB BAKER, and PETER MUELLER, all students of drama, submitted a proposal to Opportunities for Youth and were given a grant of $12,100 for a 10-member company—$10,800 for salaries and $1,300 for production costs. Because the grant was almost $3,000 less than they had requested, the students sold advertising space in their program to pay for the cost of printing it. Gate money and that made from selling programs and coffee donated by three chain foodstores is being used to meet the production costs not covered by the grant.

The season's four plays were chosen by Miss Livingston, with advice from Professor Kadlec, and the casting was done by the directors before the season began. Everyone is in some way connected with the company through the University's Department of Drama, either as a student or a graduate.

Of necessity, none of the participants limit themselves only to acting. "We have to do all the work, from building sets to putting away the chairs after each performance," says Mueller, who is actor, director, and business manager. "Officially we are all to put in an eight-hour day, but it usually works out to about 16 hours, with one day off each week.

"This is one of the problems we didn't anticipate, despite our experience. We have very little time to ourselves to learn our lines or just get our heads straight. It can be pretty hectic, rehearsing one play during the day and acting in another one that evening. But we are learning from these experiences and I don't think there's anyone who isn't enjoying it."

A proposal is already underway for Alberta Barter Theatre to continue next summer, with the four productions running for three weekends instead of two. The Klondike Days street show will be omitted next year. This year, however, it will be held downtown from July 21 to 24 inclusive. (See "This Week And Next" for details.) The two remaining productions, a folk tale and a melodrama, will be performed at Torches Theatre, outdoors on the west side of Corbett Hall.

Performances of Rip Van Winkle will be held at Corbett Hall at 9 p.m. every evening during Klondike Days; The Doctor in Spite of Himself, also at 9 p.m., will be performed August 4 to 6 and 10 to 13.

CORRECTIONS

Two items in the report on the June 26 meeting of General Faculties Council (FOLIO, July 13, 1972) should have read as follows:

NEW RULING ON SERVICE COURSES

As a result of a challenge by the Committee to Examine Course Changes, a motion was put and carried that all proposals to withdraw service courses must be approved by General Faculties Council.

In the past, any challenges received by the Executive Committee of Council went directly to Council for debate; it was felt the same procedure should apply to service courses challenged by the Committee to Examine Course Changes.

THE UNIVERSITY PRESS COMMITTEE

Members approved a proposal that the name of the Publications Committee be changed to The University Press Committee.

The committee's function is "to examine plans and policies for scholarly University publishing and to make corresponding recommendations to General Faculties Council, (and) to administer the affairs of The University of Alberta Press."

Changes in the composition of the committee also were approved, allowing the six elected members to be drawn from the University community at large, rather than be restricted to faculty members and professional officers. Members will be elected for three-year terms, except in the case of students, whose term will be one year, subject to re-election.

NEW DEAN OF ARTS

In the caption accompanying the photograph of the new Dean of Arts and his staff, S. R. MUNRO was listed as the former Director of English Language Service. Professor Munro will continue as director of the service, in addition to being Assistant Dean of Arts. BRIAN EVANS, Associate Professor of History, will remain Chairman of the Department of History. His additional appointment is as Acting Associate Dean of Arts, in charge of Social Sciences.

BOOKS

The book of the Theoretical Psychology Centre's Second Banff Conference appeared in print in June under the title The Psychology of Knowing (London, Gordon, and Beach, 496 pages). The volume is edited by J. R. ROYCE, Director of the Centre, and W. W. ROZEBOOM, Professor of Psychology.

VISITORS

W. F. HARRINGTON, Professor of Biophysical Chemistry at the McCollum Pratt Institute of Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore, Maryland, will be a visitor to the Department of Biochemistry on Monday, July 24 and will give a seminar at 4 p.m. in room 470 of the Medical Sciences Building on "Association properties of Myosin."

PEOPLE

LEWIS G. THOMAS, Professor of History, has been elected President of the Canadian Historical Association.

CHARLES W. NASH, Professor of Pharmacology, has been awarded a travel grant by the British Council which will enable him to further his research on neurochemical pharmacology at the Department of Pharmacology, School of Medicine, University of Glasgow.

WALTER C. MAC KENZIE, Dean of Medicine, was elected President of the International Federation of Surgical Colleges for a term of three years at the annual meeting of the federation which this year was held in Munich in conjunction with the 100th anniversary celebrations of the German Surgical Society.

T. E. WECKOWICZ, Associate Professor of Psychiatry and Psychology and member of the Centre for the Study of Theoretical Psychology, and HELEN LIEBEL-WECKOWICZ, Professor of History, presented a paper on Kant's theory of mental illness to the II International Leibniz Congress in Hanover, Germany. In addition, Dr. Weckowicz recently read a paper to the International Society for the History of Behavioral and Social Science and Dr. Liebel-Weckowicz recently presented a paper to the American Historical Association annual meeting.

The University's long range planners, A. J. DIAMOND and BARTON MEYERS were the subject of an entire issue of the Japanese magazine Architecture and Urbanism. Included in the list of their works discussed were the Long Range Plan and the Students' Union Housing project (HUB). Mr. Diamond and Mr. Myers were also invited speakers at the Eighth North American Conference on Campus Planning and College Building Design, where they presented a talk on mixed land use universities and presented the Students' Union Housing project.

PETER BARTL, recently appointed Assistant Professor of Art and Design, has won the competition for a new symbol for the Alberta Society of Artists.

WALTER JUNKIND, Professor of Art and Design, will be giving a paper on "Graphic design and the university" at a symposium of ICOGRADA (International Council of Graphic Design Associations) in London, England. Professor Jungkind has also been invited to chair an international working group of professional designers at the ICOGRADA symposium concerning the education of professional designers.

NOTICES

MANUAL OF ADMINISTRATIVE PROCEDURES

The following notice has been received from M. A. FAWCETT, Contracts and Systems Co-ordinator in the Purchasing Department.

Distribution of the new Manual of Administrative Procedures is essentially complete and holders of manuals are reminded to complete and return their receipts promptly. Revisions and updates will be sent only to those acknowledging receipt of the manual.

Those interested in receiving a copy of the manual should write to Mr. Fawcett, giving the name of the user, department, building, and room number. While no restrictions have been placed on circulation, only one manual may be supplied to, and registered in the name of, each user.

The Personnel Non-Academic portion of the manual is presently undergoing extensive revision and holders are advised to refer all enquiries regarding non-academic staff regulations to the Personnel Office.
